Dreams really do come true! Just ask Liz and Mike Van Amburg, whose only instructions to their designer, Ron Pelson of Traditional Home Designs, and builder Justin Wolff of New Creation Construction, were to keep it completely unique and incorporate the various antiques they had collected over the years. This fabulous home on the Nile River, designed to complement and appreciate the mountain landscape, does precisely that. From old, oversized pocket sliding doors in the master suite to a one-of-a-kind staircase that incorporates huge antique timbers, no detail has been overlooked. The combination of four varieties of wood, natural river rock surrounds for the cast iron stoves and neutral stone tile flooring bring tranquility of the landscape indoors. The vaulted A-frame picture windows in the great room will take your breath away! Within the old world feel of this new construction, you'll find subtle modern amenities, such as a surround-sound home theatre and unique built-in appliances.

Don't hesitate to take a short trip up Chinook Pass, only 10 minutes from Naches, to see this beautiful home that embodies the designer's focus on "Designing Your Dreams Your way!" Justin invests himself personally in every home he builds and this one is certainly no exception!
